

Obituary

Prof. Dr. Fakhra Shareeq (1940–2013)

MBBS, MPhil

Professor of Physiology,
Dow Medical College, Karachi, and
Sir Syed College of Medical Sciences for Girls, Karachi

Prof. Dr. Fakhra Shareeq, was born on April 1, 1940 in India. The family migrated to Pakistan and settled in Sindh.

She joined Liaquat Medical College in the MBBS program and graduated in 1964. She acquired the degree of MPhil (Physiology) from Punjab University, Lahore in 1986.

She joined Dow Medical College in 1968 as a demonstrator and served the institution for 28 years. She retired as Professor of Physiology from Government of Sindh in 1999 and then took up a new assignment as a Professor in newly established upcoming Sir Syed College of Medical Sciences for Girls, Karachi. She served SSCMS till her demise on 2nd March 2013.

She left behind three married daughters, a loving sister, and a caring brother, besides many students and fellow colleagues.

Pakistan Physiological Society

mourns the sad demise of a learned Physiologist, Researcher, Teacher, Author, Mentor, and Friend who left for her heavenly abode!

May Allah rest her soul in peace, Amin!